The Book of Jeremiah, Chapter 31 verse 33!

Built like a bridge

One of the greatest features of the Iver Johnson Bicycle is the truss bridge construction—as original and built by us. "Built like a suspension bridge." The truss bridge design assures absolute rigidity, preventing give and sway of the frame during fast pedaling, pushing up hills, or through wind. No fat power is lost.

Made doubly strong

The high carbon, seamless steel tubing used in the frame and forks of this bicycle has a tensile strength of 90,000 pounds to the square inch! Fork crowns, fork ends, handle-bar stems, seat posts, cranks and other parts are made of drop-forgings. Drop-forging compresses the steel into compact fibers, eliminates flaws, and adds to the strength.

The two-piece crank set makes pedaling "easy as walking." Perfectly balanced, accurately aligned, leading true to adjustment, this two-piece crank set outlasts all others.

Colors! Ivory-Black, Copper-Brass, Peach-Blue, Iver Johnson-Blue, and Maroon with five coats of enamel—lustrous and lasting.

The Iver Johnson Velocipede

Girl, 15, Guilty In Bus Seat Case

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — A 15-year-old girl who refused to move to the rear of a city bus was found guilty in Juvenile court here last Friday on charges of assault and battery, disorderly conduct and with violating a city ordinance which makes it "unlawful for any passenger to refuse or fail to take those seats assigned to the race which it belongs."

The girl, Claudette Colvin, was declared a ward of the state and placed on probation pending good behavior.

Robert W. Cleere, driver of the bus, told the court that the girl was seated near the front of his bus with a Negro woman when a group of white persons boarded the bus. Cleere said he asked both the girl and the woman to move to the rear. He said the woman moved but that Miss Colvin remained in her seat. Cleere said he then called police.

U.S. History & Geography

Claudette Colvin (1939-) is an icon who was crucial to the success of the Civil Rights Movement during the 1950s. At just 15 years old, Colvin sparked the well-known bus protest that later became popularized by Rosa Parks and other Civil Rights leaders. During the 1950s and even earlier, Black Americans suffered at the hands of the United States' segregation and Jim Crow laws. They were forced into their own neighborhoods but were still harassed by White people. Black communities and resources were significantly less funded than their White counterparts, which fueled the anger that Black people held toward White people and the American government. Young Claudette Colvin was just a teenage girl who was fed up by the repeated and persistent mistreatment of African Americans everywhere, and fiercely stood up for herself.
